

$C \neq \emptyset$ $S a e \neq \emptyset$

RECOGNITION AND PREVENTION (EVERY PATIENT)

The Recognition and Prevention domain addresses three areas that should be incorporated into the care of every patient.

6. Assessment of Hemorrhage Risk

Identification of risk factors for postpartum hemorrhage can help to improve readiness, allow increased

REPORTING AND SYSTEMS LEARNING (EVERY UNIT)

The Reporting and Systems Learning domain includes a focus on systems improvements that should be implemented by every unit providing maternity care.

11. Establish a Culture of Huddles and Debriefs

Although a discussion of team training is beyond the scope of this article, there are some key features of every team-training program that will help establish is designed to assist in establishing a culture of safety. Although we recognize the need to individualize the specific details of these protocols to fit available hemorrhage. Latest news in terms of clinical efficacy, side effects, and contradictions: a systemic review. Reprod Sci 2013; 20:1011-9.